ROOKIE DOLPHINS FACE PAN PAC TEST OF THE TOUGHEST

The 42-strong Telstra Dolphins Australian Swim Team bound for this month's Pan Pacific Championships in Victoria, Canada is preparing to "unleash some surprises" when competition gets underway on August 17.

The average age of the team is just 20.5 – with the average age of the men at 21 and the women at 20 – one of the youngest all-round teams Australia has ever sent to a major international meet.

With 2006 being a Commonwealth Games and World Short Course year and with the 2007 World Championships in March, many of Australia's bigger names declared their unavailability for this meet.

But Australian head coach Alan Thompson has already impressed upon his team the importance of "seizing the moment and making the most of an opportunity."

"There is no doubt we'll have some surprise packets tucked away in this team," said Thompson, on the eve of the team's departure for their Staging Camp in Seattle.

"I would not be at all surprised if someone jumps up and takes this chance with both hands and they all know that places in our team for the World Championships are wide open.

"They also know that Beijing is only two years away and there can be no better way of making a name for yourself than against the Americans, the Canadians and Japanese."

Three youngsters who have already answered a call are rookies Stephanie Williams, Nick D'Arcy and Ashley Delaney.

Thompson dangled the carrot in front of the Australian team in the lead up to the recent Oceania Championships in Cairns and declared that there would be two new additions to be added to the Australian squad for the Pan Pacs.

However, not two but three youngsters answered the call.

"We were delighted with the way the entire group embraced the call and we really saw some big improvements and kids were swimming personal best times," said Thompson.

"They will run into some of the best swimmers in the world – like Michael Phelps, Natalie Coughlin, Aaron Peirsol, Brendan Hansen, Katie Hoff and Katie Ziegler – so it is going to be a tough meet."

Swimmers like world champions Jessicah Schipper and Matt Welsh, emerging Olympic sprinter Eamon Sullivan, Commonwealth Games breaststroke star Brenton Rickard and Games backstroking gold medallist Jo Fargus will take it to the opposition.

Schipper has emerged as one to watch in the lead up to the next Olympics and a 100-200m butterfly double against the might of the USA, Canada, Japan and China will again serve notice that the Ken Wood trained Schipper will be the one to beat in next year's World Championships.

She will carry the hopes of a women's team that will take on a whole new look without the likes of Jodie Henry, Libby Lenton, Alice Mills, Jade Edmistone and Brooke Hanson.

But it certainly give the likes of Bronte Barratt, Ashleigh McCleery, Melanie Schlanger, Kylie Palmer and Stephanie Rice a chance to shine.

Fargus has been training at the University of Southern California and returned home to Australia just two weeks ago to prepare to leave with the team.

She has been in great form and won the 200m backstroke at the Mission Veijo and swam a PB in the 100m – which is an exciting breakthrough.

Welsh has dropped the 200m from his repertoire, there is no 50 on the reduced Pan Pac program so all his eggs are in the 100m basket.

At his best he can win the 100m and his preparation has been on track for a solid performance.

Rickard has already claimed the prized scalp of star US breaststroker Brendan Hansen at the Santa Clara Meet this year and it has done his confidence the world of good, although Hansen has certainly rammed home the message who's Number One with his stunning world record swims at the US Nationals.

Sullivan had a great Mare Nostrum-West Coast tour in an impressive racing block and he will be in the mix in the 50 and 100m freestyle finals.

Throw in Andrew Lauterstein as Australia's next butterfly star and the team of Welsh, Rickard, Lauterstein and Sullivan could well emerge as the kind of surprise packet Thompson is talking about in a men's medley relay team that won gold at the Commonwealth Games.

Kenrick Monk, Nick Ffrost, Ephraim Hannant, Ky Hurst and Trent Grimsey are among those emerging men all searching for places on the Australian team for Beijing – their journey continues in earnest in Victoria – a happy hunting ground for Australian swimmers – who dominated the 1994 Commonwealth Games.

But this group know their mission into the picturesque surrounds of the Victoria will be a much tougher assignment.

The 2006 Pan Pacs will also see the introduction of the 10km open water event, added to the 2008 Olympic program in Beijing.

The Dolphins will field an experienced group with four-time Australian iron man champion Ky Hurst leading the men's group which will include Olympian and Perth-based surf swimmer Travis Nederpelt, open water newcomer David Browne and emerging 1500m swimmer Trent Grimsey.

The girls group will be led by World Open Water Championship bronze medallist from 2004, Lauren Arndt and WA open water specialist Melissa Benson joined by "poolies" 800 and 1500m swimmers Melissa Gorman and 2004 Olympian Sarah Paton. - Ian Hanson (Media Director).

HISTORY OF THE PAN PACIFIC SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Pan Pacific Swimming Championships were first held in 1985 after discussions between Charter Nations Australia, the United States of America, Canada and Japan determined that an opportunity to come together for a world class competition would benefit the development of the Pan Pacific region and the Charter Nations themselves.

The inaugural Pan Pacs was held in 1985 in Tokyo, Japan and was then held every two years until 1999 when the event moved to four year cycles.

In addition to the Charter Nations, a number of guest swimming Federations are invited to send teams to each Championship.

The original objectives of the Pan Pacific Charter Nations have proven to be accurate with respect to the development of quality swimming in the region.

The swimming world has watched #1 and #2 ranked nations USA and Australia battling for top spot at major competitions across the globe, and Japan and Canada have been fast improving - Japan having finished 3rd overall in the swimming medal count at the Athens Olympics, and Canada playing a strong host at the recent World Aquatic Championships in Montreal.

PARTICIPATING NATIONS

There are four Charter Nations at the Pan Pacific Swimming Championships:

- Canada
- Japan
- United States of America
- Australia

The 2006 Pan Pacific Championships in Victoria will also feature guest nations:

China Costa Rica South Africa
New Zealand Brazil Chinese Taipei
Chile Korea Malaysia
Hong Kong Papua New Guinea Zimbabwe
Argentina Singapore

FAVOURITE SWIMMER AND WHY?
Petria Thomas – she was amazing going through what she went though with all her injuries. Also she did it all without very much support from sponsors. She just loved the sport cause she loved it not for what you can get out of it material wise;
